In this webinar, we will be discussing the National Medicines Policy (NMP) Review, and the important issues that the Review will set out to resolve.

The NMP is intended to deliver positive health outcomes for all Australians through access to and appropriate use of medicines.

The Review of the NMP has been commissioned in recognition of the substantial changes to the health landscape since the policy was published in 2000. It will be high-level and aimed at identifying gaps in the NMP's objectives, partnership approach and accountabilities.
