Join our expert panel to learn about the mental health implications for people living with tics and Tourette syndrome, a condition that is often stigmatised and misunderstood.

In this webinar, the panel will:

- Discuss Tourette syndrome and the range and severity of tics, including comorbidities and associated stigma.
- Appraise screening, identification, assessment and diagnosis of tics and Tourette syndrome.
- Evaluate the recommended therapeutic approaches that have proven successful in treatment.
- Outline the importance of collaboration and appropriate referrals when providing care to people living with tics and/or Tourette syndrome.
