

Doherty and NCIRS course in vaccinology and immunisation science

Scan for more information

WHEN Wednesday, November 17th 2021
7:00 PM - 10:00 PM

WHERE Online

COST Free

Free introductory module: A primer in vaccines and immunisation
Date: 17 November 2021 Time: 7 pm - 10 pm AEDT This practical online course is for people relatively new to the area of immunisation and for those wanting to broaden and update their understanding of vaccines, vaccine development and the principles underpinning the introduction and running of immunisation programs. This includes, but is not limited to, practitioners, academics and researchers, such as primary healthcare and specialist doctors, community and immunisation nurses, those working in public health, government (all levels) and health policy, pharmaceutical industry, regulators, aged care workers, journalists and ethics committee members.