The Hunter New England and Central Coast PHN has been working with the Australia Taxation Office (ATO) that has recently launched a new self-service online platform designed to raise the financial, record keeping and taxation knowledge of small business owners. ATO Small Business Strategy Manager, Nick Passailis, will introduce you to the platform.

There's a lot to be across when it comes to operating a business. This online platform will make it easy for you to learn all the business essentials you need to know.
