

Interpreting Research for Busy Health Professionals

WHEN Saturday, October 14th 2023
8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

WHERE Online

COST Early bird fee $280 (ends 30/9/23)

This one-day online multidisciplinary workshop is relevant for General Practitioners and Allied Health Professionals.

The workshop will provide participants with the skills to evaluate research on promising new strategies for improving care, whether they be medications, models of care, interventions in labour or any other health care. It will empower participants to respond to the questions asked of them in day-to-day practice.

The example studies for discussion will focus on maternity and newborn care and women's health, but will be relevant for participants from other disciplines.

Scan for more information
and registration details