Register now for the launch of Australia's first safety and quality standards for primary and community health care. Find out what the National Safety and Quality Primary and Community Healthcare Standards will mean for services and the people who use them. Implementing these standards will give patients confidence that their service is committed to delivering – and continuously improving – safe, high-quality health care.

Hear from the experts

Join us to learn about this important new framework and hear from our guest speakers on:

The development of the standards

How they will benefit patients and consumers

Why healthcare services should implement them

Next steps for accreditation and available support.
