Monash University Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology is again running a two-day (25/3 & 2/4) online introductory course in Sexual Medicine and Therapy. This multidisciplinary course will discuss the need to talk about sex, the obstacles to talking about sex and will empower registrants to raise and discuss topics of sexuality and sexual difficulties with their patients/clients. It will be delivered online in 2022 and sold out in previous years. The course will discuss the need to talk about sex, the obstacles in talking about sex and empowering registrants to raise and discuss topics of sexuality and sexual difficulties with their patients or clients. It will cover the assessment and management of common sexual difficulties, from a biopsychosociocultural perspective, provide educational resources and an overview of therapeutic options.
