The overarching theme of this event is innovation, whether in policy or advocacy, clinical practice or practice processes, or in the community or workplace. So come to be inspired and informed by leaders in their fields from Australia, New Zealand and around the world.

This special 'boutique' premium conference event will bring together a maximum of 600 delegates in-person with many more attending virtually, ranging from medical doctors and allied health practitioners, through to clinical educators, researchers and scientists, health executives, educators and public health professionals, to explore 'The evolution of practice', with a focus on innovation and bridging the evidence-practice gap across three streams:

Health policy, advocacy and initiatives in prevention
Innovation in clinical practice and practice processes
Community initiatives, public programs and the workplace
