Lymphoedema is a chronic and permanent swelling of one or more body parts. It is caused by problems with the lymphatic system, which results in the accumulation of excess fluid.

Lymphoedema can have multiple causes; it can be genetic or can occur after surgery, trauma or together with lipoedema. It affects people physically, emotionally and psychologically.

Come join us and learn more about lymphoedema from speakers Prof Neil Piller, Dr Debbie Geyer, Kim Allan and more. See the trade displays and find out about the latest products to treat this condition.
