Join us for this online webinar discussing how it can be challenging knowing what to do when you come across patients at risk of harm from DFV. This panel will explore your legal obligations in reporting and sharing information.

Topics of discussion:

- Understand more about mandatory reporting and what happens after you make a report
- Understand how to provide a strengths-based notification in support of a protective parent
- Understand when consent is needed to share information about adults at risk of serious harm
- Understand more about Safer Pathway and the referral process
- Understand when to contact police and what happens when police are involved
