The PHN is offering training to strengthen trauma informed knowledge and practice with a focus on applying this knowledge and understanding when working and engaging with Indigenous clients, community and colleagues.

The one day training, will be reinforced by a series of follow-on small group on-line sessions. These will build on the initial training content and provide the opportunity to explore practice experiences using a trauma informed lens/framework.

The one day workshops are offered on 23rd, 24th and 25th June.
